Michael Larkins Joins WorkforceLogic to Bolster New Advantage Program

New EVP to Head Migration Program for Former ECG Clients

SONOMA, Calif. – April 8, 2008 – WorkforceLogic, the leading workforce management software and services company announced today the appointment of Michael Larkins to the position of executive vice president, corporate development. In this position, Larkins will oversee the newly created WorkforceLogic Advantage program developed to assist former clients of the now-defunct Ensemble Chimes Global (ECG) company to seamlessly migrate to WorkforceLogic. Larkins will report directly to Chairman and CEO Gary D. Nelson.

Larkins headed the Service and Quality group for the Western U.S. while at ECG before the company filed for bankruptcy. He will be tasked with working on WorkforceLogic Advantage, which is a program specifically tailored to migrate VMS and MSP clients — including data options, code protection and migration timelines. In addition, Larkins brings more than 15 years of general workforce management industry experience to WorkforceLogic.

“Michael’s first-hand experience with ECG’s former clients and proven track record make him a welcome addition to the WorkforceLogic management team,” said Gary D. Nelson, Chairman and CEO of WorkforceLogic. “We look forward to him leading the WorkforceLogic Advantage program and assisting former ECG clients during what must be a challenging time for them.”
